

INDEX

TO THE

HUNDRED AND FORTY-SECOND VOLUME OF THE QUARTERLY REVIEW.

A.

ADAMS, President, described by Ticknor, 166.

Age of the World, modern philosophers on the probable, 202—the Mosaic record supported by scientific enquiry, 205—slow development in all the operations of Nature, 206—duration of the Solar system, 207—its creation, 209—law of gravitation, 210—chronology of the Bible, 211—rotation of the earth as described by Moses, 212—Sir W. Herschel's theory of the Nebulæ, 213—Laplace's mechanical explanation, 214, 215—conjectures respecting our system, 216—periods of vast duration, 219—the clay under London, ib.—metamorphic rock, 220—age of ice, 221, 230—secular cooling of the earth, 222—time-measurement, 223—Laplace's calculation of the moon's rotation, 223—225—effect of the tidal wave on the movement of the earth, 225—retardation of the earth's motion, 225—the age of organic life, 226—gravitation theory of Helmholtz, 226—changes of climate, 228—upheavals and submergences of land, 230—the six days of creation, 231.

America, disposition of property in, 283.

American education, 289.

——— literature, 276, 277.

——— women, freedom and independence of, 284.

Arctic Regions, the, and the Eskimo, 346.

Argyll, Duke of, speech at Glasgow on the Eastern Question, 546–548.

Vol. 142.—No. 284.

Athenæum Club, the, originated by Mr. Croker, 103.

Austria, its present position, 490—weakness and difficulties, 491.

B.

Bacon, Lord, remarks on his character and philosophy, by Lord Macaulay, 27–32.

Baring, Mr., report on the Bulgarian atrocities, 562, 563, 566, 567.

Barkley, Mr., 'Between the Danube and the Black Sea,' 554.

Barry's illustration of Lear in the Boydell Gallery, 464.

Bernard, S., on the state of the Church of Rome, 428.

Berry, the Misses, and Horace Walpole, 339.

Bishops, American, the Act of 1786 for the consecration of, 273.

Bore, Rev. C. S., his impostures to obtain money, 393, 394.

Boydell, John, 458—his illustrated Shakespeare, 459.

Bristol, idleness and drunkenness in, 396.

British relationships in America, 255–259.

Brougham, Lord, remark on his death, 23. See Macaulay.

Brunnow, Baron, letter to Lord John Russell on Lord Palmerston's resignation, 523.

Brydone's 'Tour in Sicily,' anecdote of Canonico Recupero on the age of the world, 205.

Bulgarians, the, their character, 567—priests, 571.

- Burdett-Countts, the Baroness, letter on the Eastern Question, 549, n.
 Byron, Lord and Lady, described by Ticknor, 169, 170, 173, 174.

C.

- Carden, Rev. Dr., his impostures to obtain charity, 394.
 Cave, Mr., his mission to Egypt, 453.
 'Charitable Administration of an East-end Mission District,' by A. W. H. C., 381, 382, 384.
 Charity, its false system in London, 379—during the winter of 1866-67, 381.
 Chartist meeting and procession, its complete failure, 515, 516.
 Chateaubriand, M., described by Ticknor, 181.
 Chenevix, Mrs., the toy woman, at Strawberry Hill, 304, 318.
 Clergy, Anglican, of the Restoration period, 37—their marriages, 39—incomes, 40—children, 41—libraries, 42—political opinions, 44. See Macaulay.
 Clive, Mrs., the actress, Dr. Johnson's opinion of, 324.
 Confolens dolmen, the, 149, n.
 Conspiracy Act, the, of 1779, 269.
 Cracow, Matthew of, on the pagan abuses and superstitions at Rome, 415.
 Crimean War, its object, 487.
 Croker, John Wilson, 83—birth and parentage, 87—early years, 88, 89—at Trinity College, Dublin, 89—at Lincoln's Inn, ib.—steadiness of character, 90—contributions to the 'Cabinet' and 'Pic Nic,' 91—'Familiar Epistles to Fred. E. Jones, Esq.,' and 'An Intercepted Letter from J — T —, Esq.,' ib.—called to the Bar, ib.—his marriage, ib.—'golden wedding,' 92—M.P. for Downpatrick, and first speech in Parliament, ib.—'Sketch of Ireland, Past and Present,' 93—interview with Sir A. Wellesley, ib.—defence of the Duke of York, 94—first contribution to the 'Quarterly Review,' 95—poem on the Battle of Talavera, ib.—Secretary of the Admiralty, 96, 97—honourable conduct, 97-99—victory over Mr. Tierney, 100—speech on the Catholic question, 101—elected member of White's Club, 102—intimacy with the Prince Regent (George IV.), 102, 103—'The

New Whig Guide,' 103—origin of the Athenæum Club, ib.—purchase of the Elgin Marbles, 104—death of his son, ib.—sarcastic sallies and pungent wit, 105—reply to Macaulay's speech on the Reform Bill, 109-111—his edition of Boswell's 'Johnson,' 112, 113—review of Macaulay's 'History of England,' 114—remarks on his speeches, 116-118—refuses a seat in the Cabinet, 118, 120—retires from public life, 119—his connection with the Marquis of Hertford, 121—estrangement from Sir R. Peel, 124—anecdotes of the Duke of Wellington, 124, 125—death, 125.

Croll, Mr., 'Climate and Time,' 203—explanation of the changes of climate, 228.

D.

- Davy, Sir Humphry and Lady, described by Ticknor, 174, 175.
 Deffand, Mme. du, letter to H. Walpole, 333.
 Denison, Edward, 385—his exertions for the London poor, 385-389—death, 386.
 Derby, Lord, on the Suez Canal, 438—letter to M. Gavard on the purchase, 449—despatch to Sir Henry Elliot, 575—his favourable influence in the Foreign Office, 585.
 Dispensaries, Provident, 399.
 District visitors, 402.

E.

- Eastern Question, the, and the Government, 544—Mr. Gladstone's pamphlet and speeches, 546—Duke of Argyll at Glasgow, 546—Mr. Lowe's speech, 548—the first principle of our Eastern policy, 554-556—parallel between Bosnia and Serbia, 557—Panslavism, 559—secret societies and conspiracies, 559, 560—changes in Bulgaria, 561—plan of the insurrection, 563, 564—supineness of the Turkish Government, 566—consideration of Mr. Gladstone's proposals, 578.
 Eastlake, C. L., on H. Walpole's revival of Gothic architecture, 314, 315.
 Echo, the Manganian legend about, 238.
 Edgeworth, Miss, anecdote of, 191, 192.

Elgin Marbles, the, their purchase advocated by Mr. Croker, 104.

Elliot, Sir H., on the sale of the Suez Canal, 435, 437—his despatches to Lord Derby, 568.

England, her complicity, direct or indirect, with the Turks, 504—her interests in Turkey, 481, 505.

— and America, social relations of, 251—similarities of principles and character, 254—increased interest in genealogical researches, 254—British relationships, 255—259—change in the spirit of Colonial policy, 261—the 'Law of Diversity,' 262—arbitrary power exercised by England, 263—benefits of Imperial rule, 264—provocations to the rebellion, 265—268—the Conspiracy Act of 1779, 269—exclusion of systematic emigration, 271—Act empowering the consecration of Bishops, 273—absence of pomp and ceremony in the surroundings of the President, 274, 275—matrimonial connections, 276—literature, 276, 277—travellers, 278—280—railway comforts and conveniences, 280—Spelling Bees, 281—a 'surprise' in New York, 282—English law, 282, 283—disposition of property, 283—code of manners, 284—survival of English words, ib.—Americanisms, 286—Centennial of the peace with England, ib.

Eskimo, the, orthography of the name, 346—call themselves Innuits, 347—of Turanian race, 348—Dr. Rink's researches among them, 349—uniformity of their language and customs, 351, 352—size of territory, 351—geographical division, 352—food, 353—the seal, its importance, 354—their dwellings, 354, 355—ideas of property and trade, 356, 357—rights of community, 358—peaceful temper, ib.—absence of litigation and law, 359—crimes, ib.—religion, 360—witchcraft, 361—priests, or angakoks, 362—kivigtoks and angerdlartugsiaks, 363.

Evans, Mr., work on Bosnia and the Herzegovina, 557—559.

F.

Farrer, Mr., on the purchase of the Suez Canal, 434, 436, 437—the mouths of the Danube a parallel case, 434.

Ferguson, J., 'Rude Stone Monuments,' 144—his three propositions, 150—the use of stone for sepulchral monuments not apparently primeval, 151—used to mark the sites of battles, 153—the dolmen a rude copy of the dagoba, 154, 159—on the 'Gothic Revival' by Horace Walpole, 313, 315.

Fraudulent Institutions, number of, 395.

Frothingham, R., 'Rise of the Republic of the United States,' 262.

Fuseli, Henry, contributions to the Boydell Gallery, 460—462.

G.

Gerard, J. W., 'The Old Streets of New York under the Dutch,' 257.

Germany, her interests in the Eastern Question, 492.

Gifford, Mr., described in Ticknor's 'Memoirs,' 169.

Gilbert, Sir John, illustrations of Shakespeare, 472.

Gill, W. W., 'Myths and Songs from the South Pacific,' 235—importance of the work, ib.

Gladstone, Mr., the 'Bulgarian Horrors and the Question of the East,' 546, 567—measures proposed for Turkey and Russia, 575—581—effects of his pamphlet, 583.

Gothic Revival, first conceived by Horace Walpole, 313.

Gray, Thomas, travels with H. Walpole, 307—disagreement, separation, and reconciliation, 309.

Greece, 493—its backward state, 494—school-education, ib.—popularity of the King, ib.—defects in its constitution, 495—decline of Russian influence, 496.

Greenwood, Mr., the 'Seven Curses of London,' 380.

—, scheme for the purchase of the Suez Canal shares, 447.

Grigor's 'Arboriculture,' 71—on the larch, 76.

Grossetête at the Council of Lyons on the state of the Church of Rome, 415.

H.

Hale, E. E., 'Puritan Politics in England and New England,' 259.

Hallam's summary of Lear's character, 465.

Harvey, Wm., illustrations of Shakespeare, 472.
 Hatherton, Lord, letter describing Croker's victory over Tierney, 100.
 Herschel, Sir W., his theory about the Nebulae, 213, 214.
 Hervey Islands, the, superstitions and legends, 232.
 Hill, Miss Octavia, management of a London court, 389, 390.
 Hobhouse's 'Letters on Albania,' 481—account of Constantinople, 506.
 Hooker, Dr., at the British Association at Norwich, 217, 218.
 Hospital Saturday, 398.
 —Sunday, 398.
 Hospitals of London, 397—their over-worked staff, ib.—abuse of out-door relief, ib.

I.

Ignatieff, General, his influence over the Sultan, 566, 567.
 Innuits, the, 350—origin of the name 'Eskimo,' ib.
 International Exhibition at Philadelphia, success of the, 526.
 Italy, her present position with regard to Turkey, 492.

J.

Jackson, Judge, letter to J. W. Croker, 88.
 Jefferson, President, his kind reception of Mr. Ticknor, 167.
 Jeffrey, Lord, described in Ticknor's 'Memoirs,' 168.
 Jerusalem, parallel between it and Rome, 413, 414.
 Jesse, Mr., describes J. W. Croker, 90.
 Johnson on Pope's grotto, 336.
 Julius I., expostulation with the East-erns about S. Athanasius, 422, 423.

K.

Kaufmann, Gen., cruel orders during his campaign against the Turko-mans, 565.
 Khedive, the, his financial embarrassments, 445-447.
 Knight, Charles, his editions of Shakespeare's Plays, 471, 472.
 'Knot-tying,' superstitious ceremony of, 140—among the Fijians, 243.

Knowles, Sheridan, letter to J. W. Croker, 89.
 Konewka, P., silhouette pictures of characters in the 'Midsummer Night's Dream,' 474.

L.

Lange, Sir D., on the sale of the Suez Canal, 435.
 Laplace's mechanical explanation of the Nebulae, 214, 215—calculation of the moon's rotation, 224.
 Laslett, T., 'Timber and Timber Trees,' 53.
 Leslie's Shakespearian pictures, 474.
 Lesseps, M. de, on the purchase of the Suez Canal shares, 431—on the neutrality of the Suez Canal, 440—objections to the decision of the International Tonnage Commission, 443.
 Leto, Pomponio, 'Eight Months at Rome during the Vatican Council,' 402—numbers present, 404—interpolations in the Breviary, 406—close of the debate, 408—describes Archbishop Manning, 409—perfect agreement with the work of Quirinus, 410.
 Lewis, Sir G. C., on the 'Ode to Eton College,' 327.
 London Alms and London Pauperism, 374—true and false charity, ib.—poor-laws, 375—early and improvident marriages, 378, 379—destitution in the East of London in 1866-67, 381—distribution of alms by the police magistrates, 383—'Society for the Relief of Distress,' 383, 384—Penny Banks, 384—Edward Denison, 385-389—Miss Octavia Hill, 389—'Society for the Organisation of Charity,' 391—various forms of imposture, 392-394—begging letters, 393—fraudulent institutions, 395—out-door relief, 397, 398—'Hospital Sunday' and 'Hospital Saturday,' 398—provident dispensaries, 399.
 Low's Handbook of the Charities of London, 396.
 Lowe, Mr., on the Eastern Question, 548, 550—on the Crimean War, 552.
 Lyell, Sir Charles, 'Principles of Geology,' 216—his careful correction of his works, 217.

M.

- Macaulay, Lord, 'Life and Letters,' by G. O. Trevelyan, 1—his strong individuality, 5—love of books, 7—laboriousness, ib.—conscientious choice of language, 8—literary success and gains, 9—publication of his 'History,' 11—criticism on Robert Montgomery, 12—religious opinions, 13, 14—the type of his age, 15—his politics, 16—wonderful memory, 17—difference in his carefulness in the manner and in the matter of his works, 19—strain of exaggeration, hasty and unjust judgments, 22, 23—'Essay on Milton,' 24—27—on the character and philosophy of Bacon, 27—32—equanimity under criticism, 33—inaccuracies in relation to Church history, 35—charges against Penn, 36—interview with five Quakers, ib.—the Anglican Clergy of the Restoration period, 37—44—probable survival of his fame, 49—his avowal of exaggeration and inaccuracy, 85—review of Croker's 'Boswell,' 112, 113—attack on Professor Wilson, 113.
- Maclise's pictures from Shakespeare, 473.
- Maeshow, the chamber of, opened by Mr. Farrer in 1861, 142—144.
- Malaga, Bishop of, his dinner described, 185.
- Manning, Cardinal, at the Vatican Council, 408—described by Pomponio Leto, 409.
- Marriages, early and improvident, among the London poor, 378, 379.
- Martin, Theodore, 'Life of the Prince Consort,' 513.
- Mauli, legends of the god, 242—244.
- Meadows, Kenny, illustrations of Shakespeare, 471.
- Metternich, Prince, on the neutrality of the Suez Canal, 441.
- Milton, Essay on, by Lord Macaulay, 24—his theory of polygamy, 25.
- M'Lean, the highwayman, and Horace Walpole, 333, 334.
- Mongredien, A., 'Trees and Shrubs for English Plantations,' 66.
- Monteagle, Lord (Spring-Rice), letter describing Croker's speech on the Catholic question, 101.
- Montgomery, Robert, his poems criticised by Lord Macaulay, 12.
- Moses, parallel of, with the Popes, 412. See Vincenzi.

N.

- Navy, cost of the, 290—difference between 1835 and 1875, ib.—expenditure in wages and stores, 293—increase in our naval force, ib.—the food-vote, ib.—the scientific branch, 295—increased cost of ship-building, ib.—'New Works,' 298—improvement of manning and construction, introduction of steam and the screw, 299—mistaken policy exposed by the Crimean War, 300.
- , English, compared with the French, 485—the blockading system, the secret of its superiority, 485, 486.
- , French, inferiority to the English keenly felt by Napoleon I., 487.
- Nelson, Lord, anecdote of, with West, the painter, 175.
- Newton, Gilbert, illustrations of the 'Merchant of Venice,' 474.
- Northcote, James, his contributions to the Boydell Gallery, 462.

O.

- Orkneys, the, and rude stone monuments, 126—legend of the Swelkie, 'how the sea became salt,' 129—King Olaf's enforcement of Christianity on Earl Sigurd, 131—evidences of early Christian occupation, 132—Magnus Erlendson, 135—his death, 137—building the minster at Kirkwall, 138—'knot-tying,' 140—the Maeshow Tumulus, 142—147—Circles of Brogar and Stenness, 142.

P.

- Palmerston, Lord, removal from the Foreign Office, 520—522; tribute to the Prince Consort, 523.
- Papal Monarchy, the, 402.
- Penn, charges against, 25. See Macaulay.
- Penny Bank instituted in the East of London, 384.
- Peter, St., threefold charge given to him, 418.
- Philadelphia, Exhibition at, 252—present aspect of the city, 253.
- Pope's villa, 335—grotto, 336.
- Pozzo di Borgo, Count, described in Ticknor's 'Memoirs,' 179.
- 'Prince Consort, the Life of,' by Theodore Martin, 513—his faith in the security of English institutions, 516—sympathy with the labouring classes, 516, 517—kindness to the French Royal Family, 518, 519—public work accomplished by him, 520—letter on Lord Palmerston's resignation, 522—his indefatigable activity, 524—early rising, 525—death of Sir Robert Peel, 525, 526—International Exhibition, 526, 527—memorandum on the Church crisis, 528—declines the command of the army, 529—the Eastern Question, 530, 532—his dissection of the popular prejudices and misunderstandings, 535, 536—memorandum on the Oriental dispute, 537—539.

R.

Railways, their comforts and conveniences, in America, 280.
 Retzsch, Moritz, 465—pictorial illustrations of Shakespeare, 466—471.
 Reynolds, Sir Joshua, his pictures for the Boydell Gallery, 463, 464.
 Richards and Clarke, Messrs., Report on the Suez Canal, 432, 433.
 Rink, Dr. Henry, 'Tales and Traditions of the Eskimo,' 346—his long residence in Greenland, 349—explanation of the word Eskimo, 350—geographical division of the Eskimo territory, 352—their language, 358—faith in their priests, 362.
 Robins, George, his prefatory remarks in the catalogue of Strawberry Hill, 342—opening address at the sale, 343.
 Robinson, W., 'The Parks, Promenades, and Gardens of Paris,' 69.
 Roman See, the, joint founders of, 417.
 Russia, the aggression which led to the Crimean War, 487—military strength, 488—changes effected by the Crimean War, 497—peace essential to her continued existence, 498—her many enterprises, 498, 499—advance of frontier, 499—internal condition, 501—increasing stringency of the Protective Tariff, 503.

S.

Sabine, L., 'Biographical Sketches of the Loyalists of the American Revolution,' 264.
 Salisbury, John of, opinion of the Church of Rome and the Popes, 415.

Schirren, Professor, on the legends of New Zealand and Maui, 241.
 Schuyler's, Mr., report to the American Government on the Turkish atrocities, 562—work on Turkistan, 565.
 Scott, Sir Walter, anecdote of, 188. See Ticknor.
 Seal, the, importance of, to the Eskimo, 354, 357.
 Servian peasantry, the, apathy about the war, 571—mutilation of the forefinger to incapacitate them from military service, 571—hatred of the Russians, 573.
 Shakespeare, pictorial illustrations of, 457—John Boydell's costly attempt, 458—how originated, 459—contributors, 460—465—Moritz Retzsch, 466—471—editions by Charles Knight, 471—Sir John Gilbert's designs, 472—MacIise, Leslie, 473—Gilbert, Newton, P. Konewka, 474—its relation to the stage, 475.
 Ship-building, cost of. See Navy.
 Sligo, Marquis of, letter to J. W. Croker, 90.
 Smith, Sydney, anecdote of, 198.
 Sneezing, superstitions about, 237.
 Society for the Relief of Distress, 363.
 ——— for the Organisation of Charity, 391—its purposes, 392—prosecutions, 393—395—investigation of medical charities, 397.
 Socrates on Pope Julius, 423.
 Solar system, duration of the, 210. See Age of the World.
 South-Sea Island Mythology, 232—Christianity introduced into Mangaia, 233—superstition about sneezing, 237, 238—legend of the Echo, 238—setting up the sky, 240—legends of the sun and moon, 241—243—exploits of the god Maui, 242—244—religion, 245—belief in spirits, &c.—burying in caves, 246—the souls of the departed, 247, 248—the warriors' paradise, 249.
 Spelling Bees, origin of, 281.
 Stael, Madame de, described by Ticknor, 180.
 Standing Stones of Brogar and Stenness, 142.
 Stanton, Col., on the Suez Canal, 433, 437.
 Stockmar, Baron, letter on the Prince Consort's position towards the Queen, 535.
 Stothard's illustration of Anne Boleyn, 465.
 Strawberry Hill, 303.
 Suez canal, the, 429—satisfaction given, by the purchase of the shares, 430—preponderance of French interest in Egypt, 431—report of the Commissioners, 432—letter from Board of Trade, 434—mixed political condition, 438—international character, 440—neutrality, 441—tonnage, 442, 443—letter from the Newcastle and Gateshead Chamber of Commerce, 444—purchase of the Khedive's shares, 447—451—burden of present tolls, 453—progression of traffic, 454.

T.

Tait, Professor, Lectures on Recent Advances in Physical Science, 204.

Tiecknor, G., 'Life, Letters, and Journal,' 160—birth and parentage, 162—early studies, 163—admitted to the Bar, 164—gives up the law, 165—interviews with Mr. Adams, Madison, and Jefferson, 166, 167—describes Lord Jeffrey, 168—reflections on Buonaparte's escape from Elba, ib.—Gifford, Byron, 169—anecdote of Wellington, 171—Southey, 172—impressions of Lord and Lady Byron, 173, 174—Sir Humphry and Lady Davy, 174—West, 175—life at Göttingen, 175, 176—at Weimar, 176—defence of German literature, 177—F. von Schlegel, 178—dines with Madame de Staël, 179, 180—Chateaubriand, 181—bull-fights in Madrid, 184—the Maid of Zaragoza, 184—dinner with the Bishop of Malaga, 185—battue at Woburn Abbey, 186—a Scotch beauty, 187—anecdote of Sir W. Scott, ib.—Hazlitt and Godwin, 188, 189—Almack's, 189—returns to Boston, ib.—inaugural address as Professor of Belles-Lettres at Harvard College, 190—marriage, ib.—revisits Europe, 191—change in London society, ib.—at Waterloo, 193—compares the state of society of the Old and New World, 195, 196—returns to Boston and prepares his 'History of Spanish Literature,' 198—third visit to Europe, 199—advance of luxury, ib.—change in Paris, 200—'Life of Prescott,' 201—death, ib.

Tree-planting, ornamental and useful, 50—directions how to plant trees, 53—the lake-side or stream-bank, 54—the oak, 57—evergreen oak, or cork-tree, 58—ash, 59—elm, 60—wych, or Scots elm, 61—lime, or linden tree, 62—beech, 64—purple and copper beech, 65—sweet chestnut, ib.—horse-chestnut, 66—grouping trees, ib.—sycamore, 67—poplar, 68—Irish yew, ib.—Ailanthus, Paulownia, and Catalpa, 69—pines, firs, &c., 70—76—larch, 76—yew, araucaria, 77—cedars, ib.—cypresses, thujas, and junipers, 78—Wellingtonia, 79—cultivation of conifers, 80.

Trevelyan, G. O., 'Life and Letters of Lord Macaulay,' 1.

Turkish Empire, the, 480—wars with Austria and Russia, 481—England's interest in Turkish affairs, ib.—death of Selim, 482—absence of progress or healthy vitality, 483—its duty in the trusteeship of the Bosphorus and custody of the Black Sea, 484—effect of the French Revolution, ib.—importance of the command of the Mediterranean, 485—refusal of England and France to share the enterprise with Russia, or to remain neutral, 489—changed position of England towards Turkey, 502—interest in her welfare, 505—decline of the Turks, 506—reforms of Mahmud II., 507—the Koran, ib.—temporal administration, ib.—the Janizaries, 508—the Sultan, ib.—difficulty in the reform of the Porte, 510.

Turks, decline of the, 506—their position at Constantinople, 555—in Bulgaria, 564—expulsion from Europe, 576.

V.

Vagrant, Confessions of a, 393.

Vatican Council, sittings of the, 404—408.

Vincenzi, Aloisius, 'De Hebræorum et Christianorum sacrâ monarchiâ,' 411—parallel between Moses and the Popes, 412—between Jerusalem and Rome, 413, 414—the joint founders of the Roman See, 417—threefold charge given to St. Peter, 418—mis-translation of Greek, 422—on the Canons of the first four General Councils, 424—the Sardican Canons, 424.

W.

Waldegrave, Lady, restores Strawberry Hill, 343—portrait gallery, 344.

Walpole, Horace, describes Strawberry Hill, 304, 305—his early years, and interview with the King, 305—enduring friendships, 306—dislike to the university studies, 307—death of his mother, and his father's second marriage, ib.—goes abroad, ib.—misunderstanding with Gray, 309—mania for collecting, 310—M.P. for Callington, ib.—his maiden speech, 311—death of his father, 312—'Ædes Walpoliana,' 313—originator of the Gothic Revival, 313—316—begins to build his castle, 318—describes it in his letter to Mann, 319, 320—entertainment to the 'Bedford Court,' 321—peculiar character, 322, 323—letter writing, 324—builds his Gallery, 326—his printing-press, 327—'Castle of Otranto,' 328—Warburton's criticism on, 329—religion, 331—productions of his printing-press, ib.—attacks by highwaymen, 333, 334—ill-health, 334—'Description and Inventory,' 337—accession to the earldom, 338—acquaintance with the Miss Berrys 339—death, ib.—sale of his collection, 340—343—his remarks on the projected Boydell Gallery, 458.

Walpole, Sir Robert, 305—second marriage, 307—death, 312.
 Warburton, his quarrel with Horace Walpole, 329—criticism on the 'Castle of Otranto,' 329.
 Wellington, Duke of (as Sir Arthur Wellesley), interview with Mr. Croker, 93—letter on receiving the poem on the Battle of Talavera, 96—anecdote of, in Croker's Journal, 124—in Ticknor's Memoirs, 171, 189.
 West, Benjamin, contributions to the Boydell Gallery, 460.
 Westall's illustration of Imogene, 465.
 Wheaton, on the political conditions of straits, 439, 440.
 Whitmore, W. H., the 'American Genealogist,' 254.
 Witchcraft, the Eskimo's belief in, 359—punishment, 361, 362.

Y.

Yardley, Mr., on the distribution of alms by the Thames Police Court, 383.

END OF THE HUNDRED AND FORTY-SECOND VOLUME.

ar-ces he ur

fr.
he 96
al, 89.
he

5.
of an 59

of rt.